Arlington Heights, Arlington, WA

This Stillaguamish riverfront property is a premier salmon, steelhead and white water river location just an hour northeast of Seattle. The natural and free flowing south fork of the Stilly tumbles from the Cascades, through this forested wonderland, then joins with the north fork near the town of Arlington before it empties into the Puget Sound. Truly a private paradise you must see to understand. The perfect blend of pasture and forest. Rare, no flood acreage with room for all. Parcel to the north and south also available. Simply magical!
